GOSSIP OF THE RUNNERS.

PLAN TO REVIVE RACING IN THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Capital Ready for a Big Track Near Phila-Applies for Dates-New Machine Calculated to Do Away With the Starter. away badly, but got to the front early.

Talk has already started regarding a bill to be introduced in the Pennsylvania Legis-lature legalizing racing and private betting out of the stake and started him in the curin that State. With the prosperity of racing in New York State in mind and not forgetting that the sport once thrived at the Suffolk Park, Point Breeze and Pittsburg tracks nearly twenty years ago, Pennsylvania turfmen have waxed enthusiastic and are confident that if they are permitted to open tracks just outside of Philadelphia and the Smoky City they will reap their reward in the shape of a boundless financial harvest. A year ago a bill drawn on the lines of the Percy-Gray law was introduced at Harrisburg, but it made no progress because it had no influential sponsors. But now turfmen in the Keystone State believe that there will be favorable action especially if a Pennsylvania Jockey Club is organized composed of such well-known racing enthusiasts as A. J. Cassatt, S. S. Brown, P. A. B. Widener, Joseph E. Widener, B. F. Clyde, E. T. Stotesbury and others. It was at the Centennial race meeting in 1876 at Point Breeze that the stables of E. J. Baldwin, Pierre Lorillard, George Lorillard, Oden Bowie, E. J. Clabaugh, August Belmont, D. D. Withers, L. E. Jerome and others raced. The memories of these days of success have not entirely faded away and a revival of them appears to be in order. The bill to be placed before the Legislature at Harrisburg will be copied from the present law in this State. It will not legalize open gambling and pool selling but will permit private betting between individuals with a chance for a better to recover losses in a suit at law. The suc-cess of racing here will be pointed to as a forcible argument why the sport should be allowed to come to life again in Pennsylvanin under similar stringent conditions. It is said that capital is ready to build one of the largest and best appointed racetracks in America within a half hour's ride of the Quaker City as soon as the proposed bill becomes a law.

It was learned yesterday that the Metropolitan Jockey Club, which controls the "Sullivan-McCarren" track near Jamaica, has just made a formal application to the Jockey Club for spring and fall dates next year. The delay in asking for dates created some talk recently, the impression being prevalent that the new track had decided to lie dormant for another year. But with the application comes the problem for the Jockey lub to solve of allotting dates to all of the local racing as ociations without hurting any one's feelings. Last year the Jockey Club made known the dates for the season just closed so unexpectedly that the Sullijust closed so unexpectedly that the Sullivan-McCarren combination did not have time to put in a request for an allotment, although it is doubtful if they could have gotten the new track ready in time to race either in the spring or in the fall. But the track is now practically completed and the owners of it say that under the law they expect to receive a license from the State Bacing Commission, prior to getting dates. It has been said that the failure of the Mctropolitan Jockey Club to arrange for a suitable list of stake events might work of its disadvantage in view of the position the Bacing Commission and the Jockey Club have assumed in this matter. But the promoters of the pew track, in their application for dates, have declared their willingness to meet all of the requirements with liberality. In building the new track at Jamaica the promoters have already spent nearly $200,000, it is said, with a further outlay necessary before the gate can be opened to the public. In going cheed with the work, they have evidently believed that they will receive recognition from the racing sutherlies. Work on the track was begun before the law was amended giving to the Racing Commission the absolute power to refuse or grant a license to ing the new track at Jamaica the promoters have aiready spent nearly $CoCoO. It is said the promoters of the problem of the public. In color of the problem of the public of the public of the problem of the public of the p

"The Military Athletic League sincerely deplores the fact that the Twelfth and Thir-teenth regiments will-not appear in the coming military tournament," said Col. Charles H. Luscomb, president of the league, yesterday. "However, I am sanguine," he con-tinued, "that the tournament to be held Madison Square Gardenfrom April 27 to May 2 next will be the greatest the league has ever given. Arrangements have been made with the United States Army and Navy and also for the appearance of a delegation of the most skilled non-commissioned officers of Great Britain. National Guard organizations from New York will also be represented. and this will include engineers, cavalry, artillery and signalmen. Col. Bartlett of the Twenty-second Regiment and Col. Duffy of the Sixty-ninth have both written me that they will personally appear in command of four companies from their regiments in the review; and Col. Eddy of the Forty-seventh Regiment has notified me that he will send four companies to participate in the reviews. OUR OARSMEN AT HENLEY. Englishmen Blame Professional Coaches for Their Alleged Suspicious Nature.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON. Dec. 6.—The Field, discussing the proposed rule to exclude from the Henley races all crews which have been coached

BOWLING RECORDS AND GAMES. by a professional within four weeks pre-ceding the regatta, neither wholly supports nor yet condemns it. The paper says that such a rule would probably not harm rowing as a science, and it might, on the other hand, improve the morale of some crews, especially those from the United States, The Field regards the reason for the new departure as not clear, pointing out that all the best British clubs banned profes-sional coaching half a century ago. It continues:

RED BALLS ON GOLF LINKS.

'SELECTED CARD" HANDICAP DE-CIDED AT DYKER MEADOW.

Lawson Wins Net and H. F. Whitney Gross Score Honors-Travis and Stillman Beat Macdonald and Watson, Jr., at Garden City-A Cross-Country Plan.

Red-painted balls brightened the snow on the M. G. A. links yesterday, but the play was mostly of an informal character and "snow rules," an elastic code that permits the lifting and placing of the ball at will without penalty throughout the fair green, governed the players in most instances. The putting greens were cleared off, and although faster than ordinarily on account of the frost the players were not bothered much more than

A novel cross-country match has been arranged by some members of the Newark A. C., which will be decided to-day if the anow is not too slushy. It is a three-ball match, the pairs being C. McD. Wills and A. P. Gifford, E. N. Todd and W. H. Osborne and George G. Haddow and F. J. Faulk. The start will be from the first tee of the Newark A. C., the play being straight ahead for over a mile to the cigath green, which will be the first hole. There will be lent one more hole to the match, the cighteenth at Baltusrol, nearly five miles naw. The players will walk about three city blocks before teeing up, to get away from the trolley line and to avoid passing through Springfield, and they will then play along a country lane, or across the fields as they prefer, to the Baltusrol home green.

SURPRISE FORN. Y. A.C. MEMBERS. K. A. C. Swimmers [Wear "Winged Foot" in "Ladles Day" Water Polo Game. The fiftieth "ladies' day" of the New York
A. C. was celebrated yesterday at the club-house, Central Park South, in becoming fash-ion. Everything was carried out in a style

"gorgeously lovely," as one of the fair patrons putit, and the dress and equipments of those present were in thorough accord with the remark. But the best feature of the day was the events arranged for the natatorium, and while these competitions were in progress the "fair ones" and their escorts carefully noted every move of the swimmers.

One item, an innovation, took immensely with those present. It was an obstacle race of fifty yards. Ruddy, the winner, simply outclassed his rivals, Lyon and Smyth, and won easils: but in the last obstacle this latter

A bit of a surprise to the old conservative members present was caused by the waterpolo match announced between the New York A. C. and Columbia University. The college men towed the scratch all right, and to the consternation of everybody outwalked the old team of the Knickerbocker A. C.—such names notorious in the "cherry diamond" days as I. de B. Handley, I. B. Goodwin, J. A. Ruddy, J. Steen and George W. Van Cleaf. They played and, of course, beat Columbia in a one-sided affair by 9 goals to a "duck egg." The exhibition, however, did not please the members, as one remarked: "The club is spending $25,000 a year on athletics, and if it can't develop a water-polo team without importing the K. A. C. chaps we had better not have a team. I don't believe in such policy."

In the interstices of the exciting events Gus Swanstrom and John Robinson amused the crowd with exhibitions of fancy aquatic feats. Those who conducted the meeting were H. E. Buermeyer, Robert Stoll, Mortimer Bishop, J. H. Abeel, Jr., M. P. Halpin, E. J. Granus and Harry Lyons.

ALL OUR CLIENTS ARE AHEAD OF THE GAME AT THE SOUTHERN CITY THROUGH FOLLOWING OUR PLAY.

SATURDAY'S BIG PLUNGE, MORONI, 2 to 1, LOST, BROKE DOWN IN RACE!

No human being could have foreseen yesterday's catastrophe. Had not Moroni, our special Saturday selection, broken down in the actualing of the race he would, beyond the peradventure of a doubt, have landed the race and added still more to the surplus accounts of our clients was no guesswork about Moroni. He was the best on the card, and when we sent out the word that he was the big strong Saturday plunge whe was fast and fit. He started and met with an accident. He broke down when he was going good enough to fulfish our word to you, who apology. Nobody could have predicted such a misfortune, and our only regret is that our clients were called upon to suffer because of

WE TELL OUR FULL STORY.

As we told you days ago, the track at New Orleans has been in a deplorable condition, and carefully clocked and selected horses have been withdrawn by prudent owners. We were especially cast down on Weinesday and Thursday when our selections—Jack De Mund and Moabha—were those who have honored us by the patronage.

The property of the property of the patronage of the patronage of the patronage of the patronage.

COMPLETE RECORD OF THE MEETING.

The one-horse daily plays made with the commissions of our hundreds of clients on the New Orleans meeting, which began Thanksgiving Day, are as follows:

RICHER RETURNS THIS WEEK.

Sun, harrow and track-roller have done much to improve the going within the past few hours and some of the colts which have been held back until the going was to their liking will start soon. We know these horses. We have watched them for days and have waited for them to go out track burning. Some of them have done some splendid early-morning work and our circksmen have seen them breeze.

The elements above have prevented the pulling of of two or three very good things, which are now practically ready. When these colts start we will be ready to send the money in.

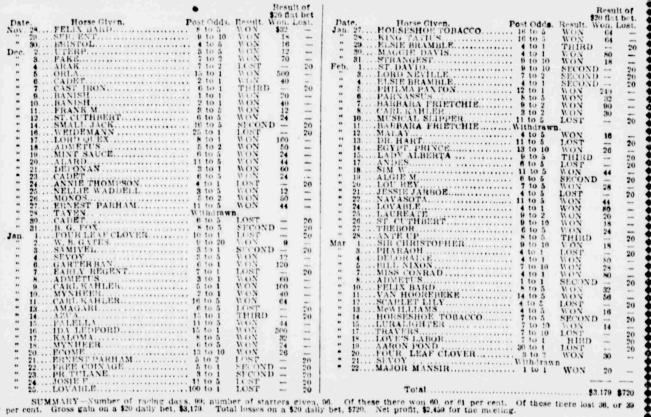

The coming week will furnish a splendid opportunity for our clients to add to their New Orleans winnings, and it also gives an uncampled chance for prospective clients to start auspiciously with a certainty of getting enormous dividends on even a modest turf investment.
